

Lord's Supper Talk:

What a week to be thankful for. Just in time for another lock down we are all told to have a happy legal thanksgiving. I am 40 and I have no idea what a legal thanksgiving means.

I guess I will have to send out some virtual turkeys and pumpkin pies to family and friends. See you next year Lord Willing.

Thanksgiving All Year Long

Thanksgiving week. The chaos and the crazy. The preparation and the execution.

Aunt Jo's making her famous mashed potatoes and Aunt Lois is bringing those pies that no one eats. And no one has the heart to tell her that she is a terrible baker (Bless her heart). And the turkey dry, burnt or fried. All I know is that the ham sometimes ends up being the best part of the meal.

I don't know about you all but I am thankful that we have the freedom and the opportunity each and every Sunday to come to the table and approach it with thanksgiving and break bread and drink from the cup. Amen

Psalms 100:4

Enter into His gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful to him and bless his name.

I Love that song. Been singing that since I was a child.

World you can have your legal thanksgiving, your president, socialism you can't have my guns but I will give you my thoughts on what I am truly thankful for and that is the Death and Sacrifice of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. You cannot take that away from me. That is in a clutch.

Prayer:

Lord, as we take these precious emblems help us to remember what we are truly thankful for and the opportunity that we have to witness to others during this holiday.
AMEN
